

10,000 Allied troops close in on Cong shangri-la seeking invaders

SAIGON UPI — More than 10,000 Americans and Allied troops closed in on a Communist shangri-la in search of 1,200 North Vietnamese invaders and two stolen 105mm Howitzers.

Moving off from a base on Buddha Mountain 340 miles northeast of Saigon, the U.S. and government soldiers reported killing 26 Communists and sustaining three Americans killed and 30 wounded. Operation Hood River opened five days after an informer offered to lead Americans into the Communist mountain sanctuary where the artillery pieces stolen from the South Vietnamese, were reported buried. U.S. commanders unveiled the giant sweep today.

"This is a squeeze play operation. We have information that there are elements of the 1st North Vietnamese Regiment in there. The idea is to catch them in a trap," a U.S. spokesman said.

In other action, U.S. jet bombers kept up an increased pressure against North Vietnam. They flew 134 missions Sunday against the Communist country's war machine. U.S. spokesmen reported losing one plane and its two man crew.

The downed F4 Phantom was the 637th U.S. plane lost over North Vietnam, spokesmen said.

U.S. pilots reported destroying in a mile high explosion four trailer truck-loads of missiles or shells the Communists were trying to bring down near the South Vietnamese border. The North Vietnamese apparently hoped to use them against the giant U.S. Air Force B52s which have been smashing Communist targets on the border.

No B52 Stratofortress has been downed by the Communists in the war.

Today the Stratoforts concentrated on the trails and caves the Communists use near the Marine coastal bastion of Da Nang, 360 miles northeast of Saigon, and in the central highlands. They also struck Communist troop centers in the jungles southeast of Saigon.

In South Vietnam's ground war, near the Cambodian border 250 miles north of Saigon, South Vietnamese troops battled for the third day in a row with North Vietnamese units. They reported killing 162 Communists and suffering "moderate" casualties themselves.

American units also fought North Vietnamese troops hitting and then fleeing back into Cambodia's neutral territory sanctuary. A U.S. Army 25th Infantry Division unit had two men killed and 13 wounded in one mortar attack.

Another division unit uncovered a Viet Cong munitions factory in a tunnel maze near the Cambodian border 36 miles northwest of Saigon. Underground, the Americans found a drill press, a pressure press, a bench grinder, metal lathe, a set of threading dies and other gear as well as the makings of a volcano of ammunition.

In Operation Hood River, Americans and government troops were pushing into dense mountain jungle rarely if ever before penetrated by Allied forces.

The South Vietnamese troops badly wanted the Howitzers back. It was something less than an honor when the Communists sneaked them away from a government unit last year. The Americans, from the 101st Airborne Division and the 196th Light Infantry Brigade, and the South Koreans in the push moved out from Buddha Mountain under an opening barrage by 100 Allied guns. American planes strafed the Communist mountain hideout area before the Allies moved in.

Thus far the push had not produced the big battle U.S. commanders hoped for. They reported "light scattered contacts."

But a tougher fight was expected as the Allies pushed deeper.

Hurst is candidate for city councilman

William Maurice (Spud) Hurst has been selected by the Democrat City Committee to be their candidate for the office of city council from the Second Ward in the November election.

This action was announced by Tom Roach, City Democrat Chairman, and fills the one vacancy on the ticket in the May primary.

Mr. Hurst, 53, resides at 321 North Arlington, with his wife, Irma. They are the parents of two children, Mrs. Anita Arnold, Lafayette, and Jack E. Hurst, who is employed by the General Telephone Company in Greencastle.

The Democrat candidate has been Putnam County Veterans Service Officer for the past four years. He is a Past Commander of American Legion Post 58, a member of Gen. M. Lee Post 1550 Veterans of Foreign Wars, and a member of the State Veterans Service Officers Association.

He is also a member of the First Christian Church, Elks Lodge, the Air National Guard at Hulman Field, Terre Haute, and is a veteran of World War II and the Berlin crisis.

Vietnam offensive "on right track"

WASHINGTON UPI — Special White House emissaries Maxwell Taylor and Clark Clifford, convinced that the U.S. offensive in Vietnam is "headed on the right track," say there should be a continued build-up of pressure on the Communists.

The envoys, reporting to President Johnson over the weekend on their two-week tour of five nations, said most U.S. Allies favor continued bombing of North Vietnam and a second Asian summit meeting to review progress of the war.

Taylor and Clifford met with top officials in each country to transmit Johnson's views on the war, report on the military situation, and solicit suggestions.

"The consensus, without exception, was that the Allies were headed on the right track," Clifford said. The Allied governments were "unanimously agreed," he added, that the bombing should be maintained at the present or at possibly at an increased level.

Taylor said there also was agreement that President Johnson should meet a second time with Asian heads of state. The session will probably be held sometime in October at Bangkok, Thailand.

Illinois, Iowa hit by thunderstorms

By United Press International

Thunderstorms packing winds up to 65 miles an hour pounded Illinois and Iowa today. Violent weather stretched from the Rockies to the Central Plains.

The wind and rain, which touched off flash floods in Arizona and along the Atlantic seaboard Sunday, soaked Clinton, Iowa, with 4.15 inches of rain.

A tornado hit 25 miles west of Cedar Rapids, Iowa. But no serious damage was reported. Funnel clouds were spotted in Minnesota and Kansas, but there were no reports of any touching down.

Minneapolis was hit by a thunderstorm driven by 69 mph winds. An eight-year-old girl drowned in a swollen creek. The storm, packing half three-quarters inch in diameter, knocked out power in about 1,000 homes.

A 2 1/2 inch rain flooded a four-mile stretch in Boston.

A two-inch downpour, accompanied by 65 mph winds, hit west Liberty, Iowa, today. Almost 1 1/2 inches of rain fell at Moline, Ill., late Sunday night and continued into the morning.

Hail up to an inch in diameter pelted La Junta, Colo. More than 1 1/4 inches of rain fell at Dodge City, Kan.

Thundershowers died away along the humid Southeast coast, light rain fell along the north Pacific coast and clear skies prevailed in the Northeast and across the Far West today.

The mercury rose to 89 at Needles, Calif., before the sun rose and at the same time registered 49 at Jamestown, N.D.

Arab summit conference set for Aug. 29

By United Press International

The long-awaited Arab summit conference on the Middle East crisis is scheduled for Aug. 29, two Egyptian newspapers indicated today.

In Jerusalem, the Israeli Foreign Office announced agreement was reached Sunday with Jordan to clear the way for the return of 200,000 Arab refugees who fled what is now Israeli-occupied Jordan in the wake of the June 5-10 Mideast war.

The influential Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said the date for the Arab summit was worked out by Arab foreign ministers at their week-long conference in Khartoum, the Sudan. The Cairo newspaper Al-Gomhouria, a publication of the ruling Arab Socialist Union, echoed the Al-Ahram report.

Al-Ahram, which often reflects the position of President Gamal Abdel Nasser's government, said the foreign ministers agreed to "very important" recommendations relating to "elimination of the consequences of imperialism and Zionist aggression, diplomatic plans in the United Nations and with friendly states and a common Arab attitude in all fields of common action."

The recommendations will be taken up by Arab chiefs of state at their summit, which Al-Ahram said would be preceded by another foreign ministers conference.

The Israeli-Jordanian agreement on refugees was worked out by representatives of each side at a meeting on the Allenby Bridge over the Jordan River. It broke a deadlock stemming from Jordanian objections to an official Israeli seal on application blanks that refugees must fill out before returning to their homes in Jordanian territory west of river now held by Israel.

Under the agreement Sunday the application forms will carry Jordanian and International Red Cross seals along with the Israeli emblem.

Strike by auto workers is looming ever larger

DETROIT UPI — The second half of the negotiations between the United Auto Workers and the nation's "big three" auto makers began today with the possibility of a strike looming ever larger.

Spokesmen for the industry and the union, which represents 652,000 workers at the nation's biggest auto plants, agree nothing has been accomplished so far.

Foster heads firemen

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — The Indiana Firemen's Association elected Ralph Foster of Vincennes as president Sunday at its 50th anniversary convention.

Other officers chosen were Sam Ordean, Black Oak, first vice-president; Russell Shelton, Evansville, second vice-president; Marvin Vogelsang, Batesville, secretary; Harry H. Fulmer, Indianapolis, treasurer.

Rain is predicted

A normally warm week with normal amounts of rain was predicted today for Indiana.

The Weather Bureau said temperatures would average near normal highs of 84 to 90 and normal lows of 62 to 68 with "only minor day-to-day" changes.

Precipitation was expected to total one-half to one inch in showers or thundershowers likely Wednesday or Thursday.

ward arriving at a new three-year contract.

Douglas Fraser, head of the UAW's Chrysler Division, called in local union leaders from Chrysler plants across the country to discuss the situation with them.

"We haven't even solved a small problem yet," Fraser said.

Ken Bannan of the union's Ford Division used one word to sum up progress—"nothing."

Union and industry leaders were hesitant to mention a strike when the current contract expires Sept. 6, but sources close to the negotiations said the strike possibility grows stronger every day.

General Motors' leading bargainer, Louis Seaton, said it was still too early in negotiations for agreements to be nailed down.

"There is the presentation of union demands and the detailing of those proposals. Second, the digestion of the union package and the company's proposals. And third, the settlement," he said.

Killed in Tennessee

THORN HILL, Tenn. UPI — Ronnie Eugene Mills, 23-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eugene Mills of Columbia City, Ind., was killed Sunday when the car in which he was riding struck an embankment and overturned on U.S. 25E south of here.

Police said the child was thrown from the car as it flipped over on its top after running up the embankment.

Brown says recent negro riots are 'dress rehearsals'

NEW YORK UPI — H. Rap Brown, under indictment for inciting a riot, in Cambridge, Md., Sunday declared that recent Negro riots were just "dress rehearsals for rebellion."

"If you play Nazis with us, we ain't gonna play Jews," Brown shouted to an audience of about 800 cheering, stamping Negroes. The occasion was a rally to raise money for the defense of 17 Negroes charged with conspiring to murder moderate Negro civil rights leaders.

The federal government is "escalating its war against black people" said Brown, chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee (SNCC). He referred to President Johnson as the "greatest outlaw in history" and called him "lynching Johnson."

Brown made the remark about the riots being "dress rehearsals for rebellion" while denouncing Johnson and former President John F. Kennedy. He said they "tricked black people."

Brown, introduced to the beat of tom-toms by youths dressed in African-style robes, urged members of the audience to turn out in a show of black power Wednesday at Queens County Criminal Court, where the 17 reputed members of the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM) are scheduled to appear.

"It's important you go to the courtroom," Brown told the gathering. "It's important you go with a show of force. That's black power. If they—the defendants—go on trial and they are the only black people in the courtroom you know what kind of justice they are going to get."

The 17 were arrested in predawn raids here and in Philadelphia June 21 and charged with plotting the assassination of Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), and Whitney Young, executive director of the Urban League.

Six persons injured in four accidents

Four separate accidents, three of them traffic mishaps, occurred in Greencastle and vicinity Saturday and Sunday, resulting in injuries to six persons, authorities reported this morning.

The first accident, at 7:45 Saturday evening, 500 feet south of the Berry Street intersection on Sunset Drive, involved a boy on a bicycle and an automobile.

City police reported that David Jeffries, age 6, 1110 South Indiana St., suffered head and a right hand injury, when he rode his bicycle into the path of a car being driven by Patty A. Aubrey, 312 Melrose Ave.

The youngster was taken to the Riley Hospital in Indianapolis.

Another accident, in which a small boy was badly injured, occurred at Lieber State Park shortly before noon Sunday.

State police reported that Charles Lee Smith, Jr., 10, Muncie, fell on a stump at the park.

He was rushed to the Putnam County Hospital where his condition was listed as "critical" this morning.

Sheriff Bob Albright investigated two traffic accidents Sunday.

At 8:30 a.m., a 1964 Dodge driven by Floyd E. Peck, 25, Brazil, Route 3, and a 1956 Ford pickup driven by Roger Burkett, 49, Greencastle, Route 2, collided on County Road 725 West in Madison Township.

Peck sustained a bump on his head and a swollen hand.

Damage was estimated at $500 to the auto and $50 to the pickup truck.

Sunday, at 3 p.m., a 1962 Corvair overturned on a county road one mile west of Brick Chapel.

The car was being driven by John Higgins, 17, city.

The sheriff said Higgins, Robert Nichols, 19, George Trueblood, 16, and Charles McCullough, 17, city, were all hurt in this mishap and taken to the County Hospital.

Albright described the Corvair as a total loss.

"Like hell," Temander said. He shot it out with the pair and got two slugs in the legs.

Temander, 57, armed only with a garden hose, forced the two wet thugs to flee.

Myers wants Eisenhower to make fact finding tour

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Congressman John Myers (R-Ind.) today joined in a bi-partisan effort to have former President Eisenhower undertake a world fact-finding mission with particular attention to Vietnam, the member nations of NATO and the Middle East.

Myers is co-sponsor of a House Concurrent Resolution urging General Eisenhower to make the trip and report back to Congress and the President on the state of relations of the United States with other nations of the world.

"It is imperative that we leave no stone unturned in our search for solutions to the serious problems facing our nation. For that reason, it seems proper that as representatives of the people of the United States we seek the advice and counsel of former President Eisenhower," Myers said.

"This is not a partisan proposal. It is my hope President Johnson will join with Congress in urging General Eisenhower to accept such a mission."

"We must seek constantly to bring to ourselves and to the people we represent fresh, new viewpoints founded in wisdom and experience. I believe General Eisenhower can bring us new perspective. I believe he can bring us a new vantage point from which to interpret and gauge the problems of our time."

Myers said as a co-equal branch of government he believes Congress should express its interest in such a trip and in having the benefit of General Eisenhower's findings. "Of course, any such mission would need the blessing of appropriate officials in the Executive Branch."

Python on loose

LONDON UPI — "Ladies and gentlemen," said the television show master of ceremonies, "would you please check under your chairs. One of the pythons has, I'm afraid, slithered off."

The studio audience gasped, and a search was begun for a 15-foot python that belonged to a guest big game hunter.

The snake was found 40 minutes later, asleep under the dais for guest panelists.

Copters downed, General wounded

SAIGON UPI — Communist guerrillas shot down five American troop helicopters making an assault in Saigon's suburbs today. They also wounded a U.S. brigadier general trying to help his men caught in the trap.

The Communist guns poked up from camouflaged foxholes just as the helicopters prepared to land on the guerrilla-infested banks of the Saigon River miles north of the city limits.

Their fire brought the five helicopters crumpling to earth in a few seconds. The general, circling in his command helicopter above, whirled down to help the 20 troops reported wounded.

There was no immediate report on the general's injuries. His name was withheld pending notification of his family.

The Communists set up a vicious crossfire against the helicopters, small swift assault craft which usually carry about six combat troops each plus crewmen.

The Americans attacked the area in hopes of wiping out more of the viet cong units which have been harassing the capital. The sound of the battle could be heard on the city's northern outskirts.

Hints from Heloise

by HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Folks:

Here's something absolutely fabulous that I discovered quite by accident.

You know those transparent, inexpensive, plastic wastebaskets we all buy? The kind that looks like cut glass? Usually you can get facial tissue boxes and the whole caboodle to match . . .

Well, this weekend I needed a big container to plant a flower in. I picked up one of these wastebaskets, heated my ice pick and punched some holes in the bottom of it. But when I put the dirt in, it looked awful.

So I grabbed a can of black spray paint and sprayed the INSIDE! You should see the beautiful results. It looks like a hand-carved piece of ebony! What a beautiful container for my potted plant it makes!

Not only that, if your bathroom or bedroom is pink, green, or whatever, and you want to match your decor, try spraying the inside of them with any color you need. I found flat paint to be the best.

Oh, they look so nice.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When sending get-well cards to a friend in the hospital, I always address the card to the hospital, but in the upper left-hand corner I write the name and HOME address of the person to whom I am sending the card.

This way, if my friend has been released from the hospital, the get-well card is sent to his or her home.

Irene Bauer

Dear Heloise:

We found a solution to the falls that our little two-year-old used to have in her wading pool because the bottom was smooth and slippery.

We bought some of those bathtub treads and put them on the bottom inside of the pool and no more falls or crying because of slips.

Net and Bet

Dear Heloise:

We decided at the last minute to go on a picnic and I needed a salt and pepper shaker. I took two small, empty baby food jars and punched a few holes in the lids. Filled one with salt, and other with pepper.

TRIBUTES TO OUR UNSUNG HEROES

MOTHERS

John Whitaker

Speaking of Mothers, of course, will bring thoughts to our minds of that wonderful Mother that was our own. To us she was the greatest. She is, however, being the greatest to millions of others each day. And rightly so, as few people in our lives will do the things our Mothers did for us time and time again, with not a thought of thanks in her heart.

Charles Whitaker

What sacrifices most Mothers make for us and a lot of us never fully realize this until we are grown and have a family of our own. She is the bulwark of society—the keeper of the homes and the example to all of us in this battle of life.

LET US ALL PIN THE ORCHIDS ON THESE "UNSUNG HEROINES," OUR MOTHERS.

South Viet candidates puzzled

By Daniel Southerland
SAIGON UPI — The ruling military junta's rivals in South Vietnam's presidential election today claimed the generals sabotaged their barnstorming tour.

The civilian candidates gleefully set out together early Sunday on a month-long tour arranged by the generals. They came home furious nine hours later.

They had net no voters, made no speeches and shook hands only with puzzled U. S. Marines.

"We have the feeling that they don't want us to go campaigning," one of the candidates, Vo Hong Khanh, said about Chief of State Gen. Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky, the army's candidates for president and vice president.

"This is really a sabotage of the election," he said.

Thieu and Ky organized the tour to take the group, which included eight presidential and 10 vice presidential candidates, to 22 spots around the country. The generals arranged for the group to use an Air Force plane since guerrillas more than heckle South Vietnamese politicians on the stump.

Thieu and Ky decided to sit out the tour. After all, political experts picked them almost as shoo-in winners in the Sept. 3 voting, what with the backing of the 600,000-man South Vietnamese army.

"They agreed in advance to play this trick on us," fumed Ha Thuc Ky, one of the furious candidates who came back to Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport hot, tired, dirty, hungry and angry.

Their plane had been scheduled to make its first stop at the northern provincial capital of Quang Tri. About 1,000 local voters had gathered for the rally in broiling sun. They waited in vain.

The C47 transport, too big to land at the local air strip, set down seven miles to the north at Bong Ha. The candidates got a bleak welcome.

"There was no transportation and nobody to greet us. Just wind and sand," growled one candidate.

A handful of U. S. Marines were on hand. So were three trucks that gave evidence that their earlier cargoes had been garbage. A strong wind shipped dust into the candidates' faces as they hopped off the plane.

"We can't go to Quang Tri on those trucks," said candidate Nguyen Dinh Quat, a wealthy man. Fellow candidate Phan Quang Dan, a doctor, sniffed the vehicles and said, "Those are trucks to transport dirt."

Commies trying to infiltrate black power

By Louis Cassels
WASHINGTON UPI — Two rival Communist groups—bitter enemies of each other—are making an all-out effort to gain a foothold in the black power movement.

Neither has had much success to date, according to highly reliable sources.

The rival Red factions are the "official" Communist party U.S.A. which gets its line from Moscow, and the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM), which looks to Peking for guidance.

The Communist party has been trying for years to infiltrate U. S. Negro organizations and to win Negro recruits into its own membership. It has even installed a Negro, Henry Winston, as its nominal head in a bid to convince Negroes that it is "their" party.

But the FBI, which long ago achieved virtually total penetration of the Communist apparatus has reported to congressional committees that the party have very few Negro members and negligible influence in big Negro organizations.

The party is still making frantic efforts, however, to identify itself with Negro unrest and to claim for big city riots. Two of the principal centers of this activity are the people's voice book stores in the Watts section of Los Angeles and in New York's Harlem. They distributed inflammatory literature urging Negroes to rise in armed rebellion.

A typical handbill picked up in Harlem recently urges Negroes to "support and join people's armed defense groups. 'Oppose the reactionary violence of the ruling class with the revolutionary violence of the people,' it says. 'People's armed defense groups are being organized by the Communist party U. S. A.'"

The revolutionary action movement is still small—the best available intelligence indicates it presently has only a few hundred members—but it is regarded as potentially dangerous.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has described RAM as "a highly secret, all Negro, Marxist-Leninist, Chinese Communist-organized organization" which is dedicated to the violent overthrow of the U. S. government and which "advocates guerrilla warfare" by urban Negroes.

Ghana Embassy has costly auto

WASHINGTON UPI — The Ghana embassy is trying to sell a $47,275 limousine, that makes James Bond's gadget-laden car look like the family station wagon.

The limousine, which was custom-made for Ghana's deposed president, Kwame Nkrumah, is equipped with air conditioning, an AM-FM radio, television set, bar, refrigerator, writing desk, dictating machine, bullet proof glass, hidden gun compartment, retractable steps for bodyguards, and a back-seat telephone for communicating with the driver.

Presently, the car is gathering dust in a public garage near the embassy.

Nkrumah ordered the car in 1965 from Hess & Eisenhardt of Cincinnati, Ohio, which makes limousines for American presidents.

He paid nearly the entire price in advance, but was ousted in a military coup before the limousine was ready. Now, he is in exile in Guinea—where he has learned to drive a car.

Ghana's military government says he no longer has any claim to the limousine. And the economy-minded generals in Accra say they do not want it either.

The embassy is not fussy about potential customers—be they millionaires, the mafia or another country's president.

"We just want our money, that's all," an embassy spokesman said.

Panel urges immediate antimissile system

WASHINGTON UPI — The Senate Appropriations Committee, concerned that China might be able to launch a nuclear rocket attack by the early 1970s, is urging President Johnson to immediately begin deploying an antimissile system.

The panel, in a report released during the weekend, warned the Johnson administration that it must assume full responsibility for any further delays in setting up an antiballistic missile (ABM) defense.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee and the military appropriations subcommittee, also urged deployment of an ABM network in an interview.

Both Russell and the Appropriations Committee referred to a report by the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee that China might be capable of mounting a nuclear attack against the United States in the early 1970s.

There is no rationale for delaying deployment, Russell said, since it appears that nuclear missiles will soon be available to China "which is regarded as a 'mad dog' among nations."

The appropriations committee said it was unaware of "any successes" in the negotiations with Russia through which President Johnson and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara hope to secure agreement curbing development of ABM systems.

The panel said that furthermore, "The decision on the deployment of the antiballistic missile system cannot rest on any bilateral agreements reached with the Soviet Union."

The bidding:
South West North East
4 NT 5 ♣ Pass 6 ♣

Opening lead — king of diamonds.

I have it on excellent authority—M. Harrison-Gray, famous British expert, is my source—that the deal shown actually occurred in a pair championship many years ago. There is no use saying that hands such as the one held by South are never dealt because the players who participated in the tournament would testify to the contrary.

South opened with four no trump. He was planning to bid a grand slam if his partner showed one ace in response to the Blackwood call.

But South was playing against highly active opponents.

(© 1967, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

By the time it was his turn to bid again, East-West were in six hearts.

Reluctant to double and settle for a small penalty, and realizing that he could not make seven clubs because the opponents were sure to have the spade ace, South now bid an imaginative six spades. It seemed to him that on the bidding North would have some spade length.

When East doubled, South stood firmly behind his decision and passed.

West led the king of diamonds and South was now home. He won with the ace and led the K-Q-J of trumps, East holding up the ace until the third round.

East returned a diamond and declarer ruffed it with his last trump. South then led the ace of hearts, ruffed it in dummy, drew East's last trump, and ran his clubs to bring home the extraordinary slam.

It is true that West could have beaten the slam had he led a club instead of a diamond, but this should not detract from the credit due South for his bold bid.

South might have been carted off in an ambulance if it had turned out that North was short of spades, but he took the position that six hearts doubled was bound to produce a poor match-point result and that he therefore had little to lose by his seemingly dangerous bid.

Mao still in trouble

HONG KONG UPI — Chinese Communist party leader Mao Tse-tung's fanatic supporters today claimed to have wiped out Russian armored units on the frontier and opened public show trials of foes at home.

The reports came from Peking after Mao's chief publication, the magazine Red Flag, admitted his "cultural revolution" was in deep trouble.

A Japanese correspondent in Peking said Maoist Red Guard posters in Peking claimed the annihilation of units of the Soviet 1st Cavalry Division. The posters said the battle broke out "the past few days" in the Yili area of Sinkiang-Uighur autonomous region.

The posters said the Russians had crossed the border into China. There has been no official statement on such fighting. Both sides keep large armies in the area. Border clashes recently have been reported.

Shanghai Radio, the pro-Mao voice in Communist China's largest city, broadcast news of the public kangaroo court trials of anti-Mao elements. It said "bad elements" were being tried, with ordinary citizens apparently doing the prosecuting.

"In order to maintain social order and protect the revolutionary new order and to let the Shanghai municipal revolutionary committee effectively use its power, many districts of the city have been holding public trials in which some hooligans, thieves, gangsters and other elements are punished according to the law," the broadcast said.

It said the accused "stole, carried out speculative activities, took money and property, raped women, killed people . . ." but Shanghai Radio left no doubt Mao's struggle to wipe out party, government and military opponents was at the core. It said the trials "must consolidate the proletarian dictatorship."

Red Flag said the trials are part of Mao's fight against such foes as President Liu Shao-Chi.

The roadcast made no mention of the large scale fighting reported recently in the city between anti-Mao and pro-Mao factions. Shanghai Radio reported the kidnaping of 20 pro-Mao leaders in the area. It has never announced what happened to them after they were seized by anti-Mao factory workers.

Mao's radio and press organs pumped out more appeals for loyalty to the aging leader. They reported big rallies in Peking and in other cities including Wuhan, the central China city where the military was reported in full rebellion.

But Red Flag reported in its between-the-lines fashion the woes of Mao.

The latest issue said, "The bourgeois class (anti-Mao faction) has quite big powers in the military . . . if we do not destroy the bourgeois headquarters hidden in the establishment of the proletarian dictatorship, the whole party and state will one day change color."

No style leader

Winter fashion is for closer fitting clothes

PARIS UPI — Is the Paris fashion dictator dead? No one designer could dictate a "look" during the winter fashion shows. Everyone went his own way.

Haute couture is far from dead, as some critics say, but in a state of change and confusion. This fall the young "space age" designers such as Pierre Cardin and Andre Courreges still are running on a separate track from the older, sophisticated look of Hubert de Givenchy and Cristobal Balenciaga.

The only trend one can find in all the houses after two weeks of showings is for more closely fitted clothes, including belted. Even Coco Chanel and Balenciaga cut outfits closer to the body.

Otherwise the styles can be as you want. Hemlines wander all over the place. Suits have narrow or belted skirts with narrow or belted jackets or shorter jackets with flared skirts. Some jackets are loose, others fitted.

Daytime dresses are belted and fitted at most salons but Givenchy and Balenciaga saved the unbelted, loose shift dress from extinction.

Pants dresses and divided skirts with suits appeared in many showings and were given the official nod for daytime wear by Givenchy and Balenciaga.

The little black cocktail dress is still around. Long evening gowns were less numerous in the shows, not so lavishly beaded as usual and more narrow. Many started at the knee in front and swooped to the floor in back. The ostrich population must have been decimated to take care of all the ostrich capes, hems and dresses, in the shows.

Many houses apparently pine for the 1930s from the deluge of satin belted dresses, uneven hemlines, chunky higher heels, maxi-skirts and Balenciaga's high round shoulders.

Supreme Court Justice T. Clark is hospitalized

BANGKOK UPI — Retiring U. S. Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark has been hospitalized with a stomach ailment and general exhaustion, the U. S. embassy announced today.

An embassy spokesman said the condition of the 68-year-old Clark has improved since he was admitted to the hospital Friday but he is still confined to bed.

There was no indication of heart trouble, the spokesman said.

Clark was on a world tour under U. S. State Department auspices and has been in the Thai capital since Wednesday.

He previously visited Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore, Australia, New Zealand and Indonesia.

He was scheduled to leave today for New Delhi but the embassy said it would be several days before he will be released from the U. S. Army's 5th Field Hospital.

Clark is traveling with his wife.

Before leaving the United States, Clark announced his retirement from the Supreme Court to avoid a possible conflict of interest with his son, newly appointed Attorney General, Ramsey Clark.

Clark's replacement will be Thurgood Marshall, the highest court's first Negro justice. Marshall's appointment must be approved by the Senate.

Old hotel is razed by fire

RICHMOND UPI — A four-story hotel which was destined for demolition was destroyed by fire Saturday in the downtown area.

The Wayne Hotel, which had been closed, and other buildings were scheduled to be torn down soon to make way for a new civic center across the street from the Wayne County Courthouse.

The blaze was confined to the building by 70 Richmond firemen and six pieces of equipment. Traffic in a 12-block area was tied up, including that on U.S. 40 which runs in front of the hotel.

Fire officials were not able to pinpoint the cause of the blaze immediately, but they said a bus driver reported seeing children run from the vacated hotel not long before the alarm was sounded.

When Benjamin Disraeli was Britain's prime minister under Queen Victoria, he had to face up to complaints, notes his biographer, Robert Blake, that do not sound too unfamiliar today: the failure to contain Russia, the prevalence of wars, the inequities of colonialism, the neglect of the aged and ailing, the failure to properly educate the young. . . . A few observations of Disraeli's: "A practical politician is one who capitalizes on the errors of his predecessors"; "Every woman should marry—and no man"; "Mr. Gladstone seems to think that posterity is a pack horse, always ready to be loaded"; "When I want to read a novel, I write one."

Queen Victoria liked flattery; Disraeli laid it on with a trowel. Knowing that Her Majesty was an inveterate diarist, he frequently addressed her with "We authors, Ma'am."

Pilot is forced at gunpoint to fly to Havana Cuba

HAVANA UPI — "Communist guerrillas" Sunday hijacked a Colombian DC4 airliner carrying 78 persons, four of them Americans, and forced the pilot to land in Havana. Cuban authorities the plane probably would be permitted to leave today with its crew and passengers.

Five armed men, described by the pilot of the Aerocondor Airlines flight as Communist guerrillas, hijacked the plane while it was over the Caribbean on a regular domestic flight. The pilot said he was forced at

The hijackers were identified as four Colombians and an Ecuadorian. They asked the government of Premier Fidel Castro for permission to remain in Cuba. An official statement said the five were "at the disposition of Cuban authorities" without indicating whether their request would be granted.

The five crew members and the passengers were fed and temporarily housed Sunday night at Havana's hotel Nacional while their plane was readied to resume its flight.

The plane was flying from Barranquilla to the Colombian island of San Andres in the Caribbean when it was hijacked.

Names of the persons on the flight were not released but informed sources said four Americans, a Briton and an Austrian were among the passengers. The rest were said to be Colombians.

The Colombian pilot, identified as Rafael Madero, said the plane and the passengers were being treated well by Cuban authorities and all were "in perfect condition."

He said the Castro government assured him the passengers, plane and crew would be permitted to leave Monday morning.

"Nobody was frightened," one passenger said, "because they didn't know what was going on." Another passenger said the pilot announced the plane was diverted about 20 minutes before the scheduled landing in San Andres, but did not say where the flight was going.

The passengers learned they were in Cuba only after the plane touched down at Havana airport.

Own people first says Kennedy

WASHINGTON UPI — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy feels the United States should commit far more of its resources to helping "our own people in the ghetto" and let South Vietnam carry the burden of its war against the Communists.

"I think we have to do things in Vietnam," Kennedy said Sunday. "But I think also it is more essential that we do what is necessary here for our own people—preserve the liberty of our own people."

The New York senator noted that this country "spends more in a month in Vietnam than we do on the poverty program" in a year.

"If we can spend $24 billion a year to preserve the liberty, freedom and future of the people of South Vietnam, we should spend at least a fraction of that on the liberty, freedom and future of the people of the United States."

Kennedy, interviewed on television Meet The Press-NBC, said he was not suggesting that the United States pull out of Vietnam. But he said he would "only favor doing more in Vietnam when the people of South Vietnam do more."

Nothing that American casualties in Vietnam have been running considerably higher than South Vietnamese losses, Kennedy said he was "distressed that our casualties continue to go up and theirs continue to go down."

"This is different than it was a year ago," he said "I think they should be doing some of the fighting. I think they should be carrying the war."

"As President Kennedy said in 1963, we can help them win it, but we can't win it for them. I think that they should carry the burden of the fighting and we should help them."

Cong sustains Heavy losses

SAIGON UPI — Some 754 Viet Cong guerrillas were killed and 1,520 of their sympathizers captured during the largest American-South Vietnamese military operation of the war in the Mekong Delta, U.S. officials said today.

The joint allied force reported the guerrilla mop-up during a two week sweep around the delta provincial capital of My Tho, 35 miles southwest of Saigon, officials said.

More than 15,000 American and South Vietnamese troops took part in four coordinated phases of the operation. U.S. casualties were reported as eight killed and 33 wounded.

The South Vietnamese force, which did most of the fighting, suffered "light to extremely light" casualties, the officials said.

A team of 12 American battalions and 18 South Vietnamese kicked off the operation in the last week of July. It was the most extensive sweep ever undertaken in the delta, where whole provinces remain under Viet Cong control.

Elgin's city council blamed

ELGIN, ILL. UPI—An Office of Economic Opportunity investigator planned today to report to war on poverty officials that Elgin's city council is trying to make OEA "the scapegoat" for racial tension here.

Richard Fuller, the investigator, was sent here Saturday by poverty war officials at the request of Mayor E. C. Aft. Aft and the four-member city council charged that local OEA leaders were involved in the stoning of a police car July 31 and six fire-bombings Friday night.

Fuller said an official report on his investigation would be released today or Tuesday by the OEO, which is headed by R. Sargent Shriver.

Demo chairman is optimistic

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Democratic State Chairman Gordon St. Angelo Sunday told Democrats that they have an "excellent chance" of winning municipal elections in the "vast majority" of cities and towns in November.

St. Angelo made this report to a meeting of about 120 Democratic mayors and mayoral candidates attending a party workshop at the Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel in Indianapolis.

The state chairman said he based his optimism on a tour he presently is making of Indiana cities.

The workshop covered police and police protection, local park development, federal funds and public relations and political advertising.

Other speakers included Mace Broide, administrative assistant to Sen. Vance Hartke, and Frank Meech, Indianapolis Mayor John Barton's chief assistant.

that the pontiff will not make any drastic change in the church's position on birth control and will generally uphold the church's traditional stand."

Catholics are forbidden from using any artificial means of limiting the number of their children—such as birth control pills and other contraceptive devices. They are allowed to play the size of their families using the rhythm method, based on fertile and infertile days in a woman's menstrual cycle.

Commenting on a Newsweek magazine report Sunday that Pope Paul's encyclical would "make a series of fine doctrinal distinctions which theologians are expected to interpret as favorable," the source said:

"I don't know what they mean, especially by the word favorable. If they are suggesting that all theologians want the church's position on birth control changed they are wrong."

"The Pope has many times stated his position that approving artificial birth control devices is not the way to solve the population problem — but rather that man must do more to increase food productivity."

Race violence in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH UPI — Police Superintendent James Slusser today blamed a weekend spree of rock throwing and window smashing in the city's Oakland section on an oversize crowd at a rock 'n' roll concert and poor bus service.

Small groups of youths, white and Negro, broke three store front windows, hurled bottles through bus windows and threw rocks early Sunday morning while a crowd of 3,000 milled near Forbes Field after the concert.

"With that many people you are bound to have trouble," Slusser said.

He said dispersal of the crowd was difficult because the port authority sharply curtailed bus service after midnight. The concert had been scheduled to end at 11 p.m. but rain delayed it until 1 a.m.

Two Negro youths were arrested for malicious mischief.

End search for missing plane

ANDERSON UPI—The Civil Air Patrol ended its search for a missing plane Sunday after the pilot and his two passengers landed safely at Midway Airport in Chicago late Sunday morning.

The plane had been reported missing Saturday on a flight from Columbus, Ohio, to Chicago.

C.A.P. authorities said the flight plan called for a route over Toledo, South Bend and into Midway airport.

Some 170 persons and 19 aircraft were involved in the search which covered more than 12,000 square miles.

Conceded pennant race not so rosy according to White and Phillies

Bill White, who had difficulty just walking a few months ago, now is taking the biggest steps of his career.

White was said by many to be through, at least for the 1967 season, after he tore an Achilles tendon last winter playing paddleball, underwent a serious operation and then reinjured himself in spring training. He walked stiffly with a pronounced limp and was in constant pain but he never quit.

His courage and persistence finally are paying dividends and the Philadelphia Phillies are collecting enough interest to barge into the National League pennant race, which many have already conceded to the St. Louis Cardinals.

White slammed a three-run homer Sunday, capping a five-run eighth inning that propelled the Phils to an 8-4 victory over the Houston Astros and extended their winning streak to six games. Philadelphia, although still sixth in standings, is only 3½ games out of second place.

"He's getting better every day," said manager Gene Mauch, who watched White push himself to the limit in Florida only to suffer a relapse. "I'm glad he's hitting home runs. But I would be just as pleased with singles and doubles because of the way he is moving his bat through the hitting area."

The San Francisco Giants also ran their winning streak to six and hopped into second place by beating New York 9-7 in 10 innings and 4-1, St. Louis edged Cincinnati 3-2. Atlanta sent Chicago down to its sixth straight defeat 6-4 and Los Angeles nipped Pittsburgh 5-4.

Minnesota topped Boston 2-0 in a rain-abbreviated American League contest, in which Dean Chance pitched five perfect innings, Baltimore swept a pair from league-leading Chicago 5-2 and 4-0, Washington walloped California 7-2, New York whipped Kansas City 9-6 and Cleveland defeated Detroit 6-3 after the Tigers won the first game of a twinbill 7-3.

The Phils were trailing the Astros 4-3 when Don Wilson was replaced by Dan Schneider on the mound for Houston after walking the first two batters in the eighth. John Briggs beat out a bunt when Schneider first decided to throw to third, then changed his mind and threw to first. Tony Gonzalez looping single tied the game and Cookie Rojas scored from third on Ritchie Allen's grounder when catcher Dave Adlesh failed to tag him for an error. White then unloaded his sixth homer over the right field wall. Don Davis and starter Dave Giusti homered for the Astros.

Willie McCovey pounded out three doubles in the first game and drove in four runs in the nightcap for the surging Giants. His three-run homer in the eighth inning of the second game snapped a 1-1 tie and enabled southpaw Joe Gibson to best New York rookie Dan Friesella. Ty Cline's pinch single in the opener in which the Giants collected 18 hits, four of them by Jay Alou.

Orlando Cepeda's 20th homer, a three-run shot in the fifth inning, carried the Cards to their fifth consecutive victory and a sweep of the three-game series with the Reds. The blast raised Cepeda's RBI total to 84 and enabled him to equal his home run output of last season.

Nelson Briles went 5½ innings to notch his sixth victory of the season and the first over Cincinnati in his three-year career.

Cecil Upshaw put down a ninth inning uprising and preserved Ken Johnson's 11th triumph for the Braves. Upshaw retired the only two batters he faced, Randy Hundley and Adolfo Phillips, to throttle the Cubs, who scored two runs in the ninth. Joe Torre hit a two-run homer in the first for Atlanta off Ray Culp, whose record dropped to 8-10.

Len Gabrielson lashed a single, double and triple and Ron Hunt and Ron Fairly each drove in two runs as the Dodgers snapped a five-game losing streak. Claude Osteen, staked to a 4-0 lead after three innings, posted his 13th triumph, with relief help from Bob Miller and Ron Perranoski. The Pirates' Roberto Clemente collected three hits in four at bats to take over the league batting leadership with a .356 average.

Andretti takes Quebec win

MONT TREMBLANT, Quebec UPI — Mario Andretti, driving a Ford - powered Brabham Brawnner, Sunday won the Mont Tremblant-St. Jovite, Quebec.

Andretti, of Nazareth, Pa., grabbed an early lead in the race and led the pack for the entire 72 laps of the two 100-mile heats.

He covered the two heats in a total time of 2:07.37 at an average speed of 94.9 miles an hour.

Runnerup in both heats was Indianapolis "500" winner A.J. Foyt who drove his Sheraton-Thompson Special, a Ford-powered Eagle, to a second place finish three seconds behind Andretti in the first heat and 36 seconds behind the winner in the second run.

Foyt now leads the championship division of the United States Auto Club standings with 1,780 points. Lloyd Ruby was declared the third over-all finisher. Driving the Gene White car, a Ford engine in a Laycock chassis, Ruby placed fourth in the first heat and third in the second.

Fourth position was captured by Al Unser in a Ford Lola; Gordon Johncock was fifth in a Ford Gerhardt, followed in sixth place by Joe Leonard in a Ford Laycock. Ronnie Bucknum, who appeared to have second place sewed up with five laps to go, was forced out of contention with ignition failure on his Ford Herhardt and finished in seventh spot.

Twenty-four cars took to the track in the first heat but the curving 2.8 miles of Le Circuit track took a heavy toll and of the 19 cars that started the second heat only 11 finished.

Among those forced out was Bobby Unser, who entered the race leading the standings. The engine of his Ford Eagle quit in the tenth lap.

Unser was offered a car by a rival driver to protect his championship lead, but finished ninth and placed 18th in the over-all standings.

Andretti's win gained him an estimated purse of $15,000 from an unofficial purse of $60,000.

Indy has 6-4 victory

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—Three Indian home runs powered the Indianapolis team to a 6-4 victory over the Hawaii Islanders Sunday afternoon in a Pacific Coast League game at Victory Field.

Outfielders Bill Voss and Cotbase and Nash with no one on base and Nash with no one on. The Nash clout was his 20th of the year.

The Indians' Jim Hicks hit the third homer in the fifth inning with one man on. It was Hicks' 17th.

Jim French of the Islanders hit a home run in the second inning with one man on base to account for two of Hawaii's four runs.

STATUS IN 1966

Finish: Second in Western Conference with a 9-5 record. Winner over Philadelphia in Miami Playoff Bowl.

SIZEUP FOR 1967

THE BALTIMORE COLTS had a letdown in offense last season after a 7-2 record but snapped back to play good ball near the end so a complete rebuilding job is not necessary.

Johnny Unitas, the quarterback, had some shoulder miseries during the last six games and they handicapped him. Gone is Gary Cuozzo but Jim Ward and rookie Terry Southall may be ready to help out.

Age could be a factor in the line up front but Norm Davis, third draft choice, may be an answer at guard. Other rookies include Ray Perkins, receiver from Alabama, back Jim Detwiler, from Michigan.

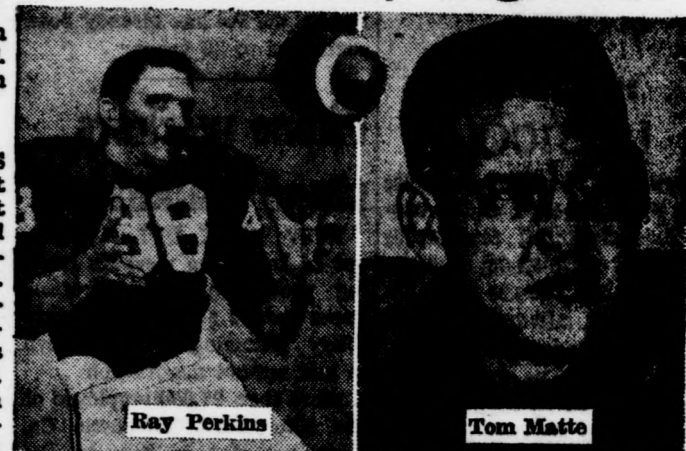

Newcomer is Bill Curry, first-string center at Green Bay, who came to the Colts from New Orleans in the Cuozzo trade.

Receiving is good with John Mackey, Jimmy Orr and Ray Berry.

Tom Matte is the No. 1 halfback. Lenny Moore is back. The Colt defense was among the league's best. Back are three 1966 linebackers, Mike Curtis, Dennis Gaubatz and Don Shinnick.

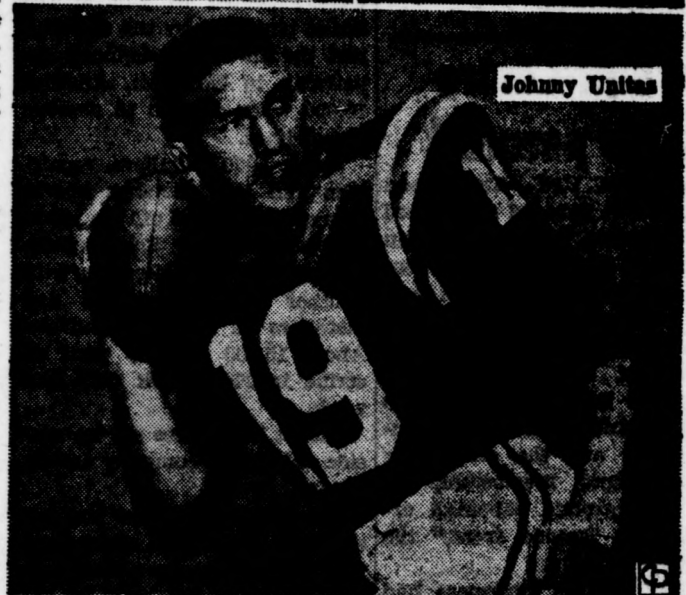

Among newcomers expected to crash the lineup is Bubba Smith, the 295-pound Michigan State All-American.

South's final quarter rally brings 15-14 win

BLOOMINGTON UPI — The South, puzzled for most of three periods by the North defense, put together a 90-yard drive in the fourth period here Saturday to eke out a 15-14 victory in the first all-star football game for Boys Clubs charities.

The two teams of recently graduated high school players battled before 8,500 fans in Indiana University stadium.

A number of players from both teams will be on similar all star teams which meet this coming Saturday for Shrine charities in Victory Field, Indianapolis.

Fullback Don Silas of Indianapolis Manual plunged over from the 3-yard line with 8:17 to go in the final stanza to bring the South even at 14-14. Then Pete Thompson of Marion County's North Central, booted the extra point.

Until the South launched its winning drive, the team's only touchdown had come in the second period when Gary Brown of Plainfield intercepted a North aerial and raced 93 yards to score.

Quarterback Dave Huse of Lebanon hauled the ball over for a two-point conversion to give the south a brief 8-6 lead. The North had drawn first blood earlier in the second period when Ed Lukawski of East Chicago Roosevelt received an 8-yard scoring pass from Dave Shelbourne of Gary Wallace. The attempted point-after kick was blocked by Keith McKinney of Booneville.

The North took a 14-8 lead later in the second period when Tommy Walls of South Bend dashed 10 yards for a touchdown. This time the North converted a two-point play on a pass from Shelbourne to Louie Guenther of Tipton.

The North outdressed the South 196 yards to 97, and out-passing the winners 134 yards to 82. The South lost six fumbles while the North gave up the ball only once on bobbles.

So stalling was the North play in the first half, that the South was able to gain only 17 offensive yards while the North had racked up 129 before the half. The South's Larry Highbaugh of Indianapolis Washington was picked as outstanding player of the game. Highbaugh intercepted a North aerial in the fourth period to halt a rally. He also returned the ball 40 yards on the kickoff after the North's first touchdown.

Silas was picked as the outstanding back for the South and Walls was given that honor for the North.

Named outstanding linemen were the North's Bob Schnarowski of Anderson and the South's Steve Carmichael.

Big Bear is still king

CHICAGO UPI—Jack Nicklaus, the 27-year-old golden bear of golf, is the first professional to roll up winnings of more than $100,000 in five seasons.

The U. S. Open champion shot a final-round 69 Sunday to win the $102,000 Western Open by a two-stroke margin over Doug Sanders.

Nicklaus' showing during the four-day contest earned him $20,000 and a total of $101,148 for this season. He finished with a 72-hole score of 72-68-65-69—274, 10 under par in the Beverly Country Club course.

He endured a three-put final green before clinching the record winnings. Coming to the 18th green one stroke ahead of Sanders, he stroked a 15-foot try for a birdie which went four feet past the cup.

The Columbus, Ohio, native then missed by two inches while trying it again and created a tie with Sanders.

But Sanders drove his tee shot over the green on the 17th hole and—by the 18th—needed a birdie to regain the tie and force a playoff.

He missed the green on his third shot and took a disappointed six.

The satorically splendid Sanders finished 69-68-67-72—276 after dropping a third-round lead. Steve Oppermann of Daly City, California, and Miller Barber of Sherman, Texas, tied for third at 278.

Bound up at 279 were Tommy

Veech, Menominee Falls, Wis., George Archer, Gilroy, Calif., Bert Weaver, Beaumont, Tex., George Knudson, Toronto, Ont., and Phil Rodgers, La Jolla, Calif.

Ellis and Spencer titlist for crown

HOUSTON UPI — Neither one of them probably could last very long in the ring with deposed heavyweight champion Cassius Clay, but if either Jimmy Ellis or Thad Spencer should win the current search for a title successor they surely would be crowd-pleasers.

Both Ellis and Spencer earned the plaudits of a slim crowd of 13,946 in the Astrodome last Saturday afternoon by the way they won their first round bouts in the elimination tournament to determine a new champion.

Clay, currently defrocked because he is under conviction for refusal to accept induction into the armed forces, wasn't among the crowd, which paid $92,560 to see the fights in person. However, he surely must have been one of the millions on seven continents who saw them on television.

Ellis ripped and tore game Leotis Martin's face into a bloody pulp for a technical knockout at 1:43 of the ninth round in the opening match.

Spencer's 12-round distance decision over highly-favored Ernie Terrell wasn't nearly so bloody nor nearly as pleasing to the crowd. In fact, it was marked by almost constant boing.

But, the boos were aimed at Terrell, whose low blows, rabbit punching, holding and eventual wobbly back-pedaling more than offset the seven-inch reach advantage he held and used in piling up a slim point edge over Spencer for nine rounds.

The fouling finally caught up with Terrell and referee Jimmy Webb penalized the six-foot, six-inch Terrell two points in the 10th round for the flagrant violations.

That was the beginning of the end, he lost the last three rounds by overwhelming margins and the decision was unanimous that Spencer deserved the victory.

Spencer had decked Terrell for a two-count knockdown in the second round and he had taken the constant left jabbing by Terrell through the earlier rounds and kept wading inside to deliver stinging lefts to the body to keep the bout close on points.

The fans didn't know it, but the unemotional Spencer had been in increasing pain since the third round when one of Terrell's low blows had caught him high on the hip.

"It hurt then" Spencer said later, "and by the eighth round I was stiff-legged."

Six anti-Castro agents paraded

HAVANA UPI—The Cuban government paraded six alleged U. S. agents before the Latin American Solidarity Organization (OLAS) conference on Sunday and said all had confessed to anti-Castro activities.

Two of the men admitted they had been agents for the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) and the other four acknowledged membership in the underground sabotage organization "second front," the government said.

After the six prisoners had appeared one by one before the OLAS session, a Uruguayan delegate, Rodney Arismendi, proposed the conference adopt a resolution condemning the United States for "imperialistic activities and aggressive plans" against the regime of Premier Fidel Castro.

In Moscow, the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda said today the Havana conference had agreed that the Cuban brand of revolution cannot be exported now to other Latin American nations.

of the "second front" told the conference they were sent to sabotage Cuban factories, power plants and other utilities, and to organize an underground ring of peasants.

A government statement said the four were captured July 18 when they sailed to Cuba from the United States in an armed boat.

One of the alleged CIA agents, a former U. S. Army captain who fled Cuba in a stolen plane in 1962, was captured in April, the government said. The other was caught in November of 1965.

The former U. S. Army captain, a veteran of World War II, was identified as Jose Rabel Nunez, 46. He has already been sentenced to 30 years.

Phone workers stage walkouts

NEW YORK UPI—A walk-out of telephone workers seeking protection in high crime areas spread through the state today following a breakdown in last minute negotiation.

More than 27,000 employees of the New York Telephone Co. were expected to join in the strike triggered by the shooting last month of a telephone repairman in Brooklyn. Another 15,000 were pledged to observe picket lines.

Some 2,000 installers, repairmen and long distance operators were reported off the job in Albany, Troy, Schenectady, Plattsburgh and Saugerties and another 1,200 repairmen and installers on strike in Buffalo. About 15,000 workers went on strike in New York City last week.

Picket lines were set up outside telephone company installations. The city of Rochester was not affected, however. A spokesman for the Rochester Telephone Co., which is not part of the New York Telephone Co. system, said workers reported as usual today.

The strikers, members of the Communications workers of America (CWA), said the picket lines were being observed by installers, long distance operators and commercial and accounting department workers. A CWA spokesman said the union hoped local operators also would observe the picket lines.

The company said it would be able to maintain near normal service if the local operators remained at their posts. He said they were expected to do so. The strike could affect repairs and installations, he said.

The strike centered around union demands that members be permitted to work in pairs in urban areas considered dangerous. Negotiations broke off Sunday night because of what the union said was the company's refusal to rescind the suspension of three local presidents involved in a wildcat strike that started in New York City July 29.

A Woman's View

(By GAY PAULEY)

NEW YORK UPI — He's the farm boy from Ohio who came to the big city to make good—and did as a fashion designer. She's the southern belle who came to New York in a personnel job and became the model for two of the greatest names in the fashion world, Dior and Norell.

They met, he "flipped" as he said, and so nine years ago they were married.

Now, George and Claudia Morgan Halley are partners also in the newest high style firm in New York. They're the rarity of a husband-wife team in the elegant world of haute couture.

Halley is designer and president of the firm which bears his name. Mrs. Halley is company secretary and still a model.

To meld the knowledge a designer has of clothes and the different knowing that a model has calls for some compromises, the young people say.

"Claudia's a good critic," said Halley. "She says nothing is beautiful unless it works. I do the designing, but if she says she doesn't like something, I hesitate before I go on."

"Who has the last word? I do—unless she's right."

George Halley was born 36 years ago on a farm near Alliance, Ohio, and came to New York immediately after high school. He took a job at Lord & Taylor in window display and studied painting with the English portraitist, Frank Slater. Charles James, the fashion designer whose classic costumes today are in museums, hired Halley just from seeing some of his windows in the Fifth Avenue store.

Later, Halley designed for other famous labels—Fira Benson, Joe Copeland, and Jane Derby.

He set up his own firm last year with financial backing from Cleveland businessmen and this is his first fall and winter collection.

Mrs. Halley, 33, is a size six brunette from Durham, N.C. She came to New York to process personnel for a construction firm sending men to North Africa.

A roommate, who was a free lance model, urged Claudia to try for a model's job open at the Dior-New York showrooms. When Christian Dior died, Claudia moved on to Norman Norell's where she was number one mannequin and unofficial adviser to the designer for a decade.

TV in Review

By Robert Musel

NEW YORK UPI—The scout was on the down escalator of the department store when he spotted a beautiful girl going up the other side.

"Wait for me!" he shouted. "I want to talk to you!" Remarks like that to strange women in Southern department stores can get a man beaten to death by handbags. But that's one of the hazards of being a professional beauty hunter.

In this case the Scout proved his identity, the suspicious store detectives and customers stepped aside and permitted him to snap a photograph of the girl on the spot.

And her picture joined the 15,000 others taken during any ordinary year in the ceaseless search for top photographic models by a half dozen or so experts looking for young girls between five feet seven and five feet nine inches tall with the right cheekbones, eyes, hair and figure.

Recently CBS-TV decided that the 14 girls chosen from this small army for top model grooming must be superlatively photogenic indeed and with the ratings success of other beauty programs in mind declared that there must be a "model of the year" pageant.

The matter was turned over to the skilled hands and eyes of Paul Levitan, director of special events for the network, who has been at various times responsible for Miss America, Miss Teenage America and Miss Universe programs. A man who loves his work, Levitan skimmed through photos of lovely girls the other day and predicted the "model of the year pageant" would be "the sleeper of the year" in the ratings when it is broadcast Aug. 30.

For these thoughtful reasons: "These girls aren't amateurs, they're professionals," Levitan said, "and the first show of this kind to use professionals. Not only that but they are approaching the very top of a profession which demands great beauty, and the ability to project that beauty for the cameras. We will be using new lenses and new ideas in color and lighting so that these gaudies will reach the screen as never before."

"Incidentally these are girl girls. The flat-chested look doesn't apply here as will be quite evident when they model resort playwear. Girls in swimsuits can be pretty dull when you see a dozen in a row but our models will all be wearing different wardrobes designed especially for them by 14 leading designers."

Levitan said none of the girls chosen for the show has been seen nationally on television more than once—this was a condition for eligibility. The winner will be guaranteed $25,000 in modelling fees for the next year with $15,000 in fees to the runner-up and $10,000 to the third girl.

"It's every model's dream to make the cover of a famous magazine," Levitan said, "and thus be seen by all its readers. Each of our 14 girls will be presented in an electronic magazine cover in full color with an audience of, say, 25 or 30 million watching them equal to the readership of the ten most popular magazines."

"If the show becomes an annual event we will invite leading models from other countries. But I don't see how any girls can be lovelier than the group we've assembled for Aug. 30."

Joan Fontaine will be host of the program. Magazine editors will act as judges. And Noel Harrison is coaching three of the girls to sing "the fashion models lament"—a heart-rending farewell to whipped cream and chocolates.

Indiana records 14 traffic deaths over weekend

By United Press International
A pair of double-fatality accidents helped account for 14 traffic deaths in Indiana over the weekend which sent the 1967 toll soaring to at least 815 compared with 886 a year ago.

Robert Bolden, 60, Indianapolis, died Sunday night from injuries suffered Friday night in a one-car accident on U. S. 31 south of Columbus. Bernard Johnson Jr., 19, Indianapolis, was killed outright.

The other double-death crash Saturday morning on U. S. 41 south of Vincennes killed David Duncan, 26, Princeton, and Ricardo Milan, 36, Forest Park, Ill. Both were alone in cars which collided head-on.

Elva P. Falin, 10 months, was killed Sunday in a two-car accident in Hamilton County. Her brother, Charles, 6, was injured seriously. Police said there were 12 persons in the two cars but none of the others was injured seriously.

Vivian Gerhart, 74, Amboy, died Sunday from injuries suffered Friday in a two-car collision near McGrawville in Miami County.

Richard Ayers, 18, R. R. 4, Sullivan, was killed Sunday morning when his car failed to negotiate a curve on Indiana 48 west of Jasonville and hit several trees.

Leon Bradford, 19, Indianapolis, died Sunday from injuries suffered Saturday night in a one-car accident in Indianapolis. Police said he was driving a stolen car which crashed.

Timothy Leman, 16, Francesville, was killed Saturday night in a two-car collision east of Francesville in Pulaski County. Leman was riding in a car driven by Dennis Eldridge, 16, Francesville.

Robert Wright, 27, Crane, was killed Saturday night in a one-car accident on U. S. 231 in Daviess County. He lost control on a curve.

Chester Thompson, 44, New Goshen, was killed Saturday night in a one-car crash on U. S. 150 north of Terre Haute. His car plunged into a ditch.

Paul Grove, 55, Washington, was killed Friday night when his car hit a tree and utility pole along a Daviess County road.

Jesus Farias, 18, Poneto, was killed Saturday night when his car hit a sign post, utility pole and tree on U. S. 33 at Decatur.

Kerry Troglis, 17, Clinton, died Sunday from injuries suffered Saturday night when his motorcycle hit a parked car in Clinton.

Pet parade at Putnam Co. Fairgrounds held

Fifty Putnam County boys and girls, under twelve years of age, with pets of all descriptions were presented in many attractive ways Friday evening in the Pet Parade held at the County Fair.

A large crowd witnessed with much enjoyment the judging of the pets. Each boy and girl participating received a new Kennedy half dollar. Special prizes were as follows: Cutest, Johane McGuire with her baby duck; Prettiest, Christi McAfee with her kitten in a buggy; most original, Michelle Ratcliff with her three little pigs in a straw house; Best Trained, Michael Fox with his dog; most unusual, Rodney Eubank with a cage of baby opossum; Best Group, Mary, Becky, Vicki Scraggs with their Baa, Baa, Black Sheep and three bags of wool. Clint Maddox received honorable mention with his goose that laid the golden egg.

Putnam County Farm Bureau sponsored the parade with Mrs. Gene Clodfelter in charge. Any of the boys and girls who are members of a Farm Bureau family, voting or associate, may show their pets in the parade at the state fair. Entries should be sent to Mrs. Clodfelter, Russellville, R. 1.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK UPI — E.F. Hutton & Co. Inc. says the sluggish action of certain glamor issues suggests that some of them already have seen their highs for some time. The investment firm, however, says the favorable technical statistics still outweigh the unfavorable ones and a selective investor can look for a higher market over the near term.

W.E. Hutton & Co. observes that the glamors and high flyers now are encountering competition from quality issues. Thus, the company says, a "much more selective attitude" toward these issues seems in order.

Bache & Co. Inc. says that while the investment community may require "a pause" for further assessment, the underlying strength in the market cannot be ignored. The company says that before long the market probably will resume its upward seasonal trend.

Starts prison term

CHICAGO UPI — Marshall Caifano, 56, a reputed Chicago crime syndicate figure, was moved to Leavenworth, Kan., Federal Prison Saturday to begin serving a 12-year term for an attempted extortion of a Crown Point, Ind., man.

Caifano pleaded guilty to fraud in the extortion case of Arnold Henderlong, 49, Crown Point.

His sentence was to run concurrently with a 10-year term handed down in 1964 for the attempted extortion of $60,000 from Los Angeles oil baron and hotel operator Ray Ryan.

Man drowns in Reynard Lake

PEKIN UPI — John Morris, 31, of Pekin apparently drowned Sunday evening at Reynard Lake about three and a half miles east of Pekin.

Witnesses said Morris was pulling a water skier toward a dock when he fell out of the boat. Witnesses said Morris was sitting on the side of the boat rather than in the seat.

Witnesses said Morris resurfaced once "in a pool of blood" and then sank beneath the water. Authorities say Morris was probably struck by the boat as he fell.

Indiana State Police scuba divers searched for his body for several hours, but called off the search until today because of darkness.

Like is making fast recovery

WASHINGTON UPI — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is recovering rapidly from his third gastrointestinal attack in less than a year and will be released "soon" from Walter Reed General Hospital.

The 76-year-old general's doctors say that before he is discharged he will receive a physical examination and routine dental work to save him the trouble of visiting the hospital later this month.

A hospital spokesman would not say Sunday precisely when Eisenhower would be released, but noted that the results of tests and X-rays had been very "reassuring" and the general's stay would not be of long duration.

Officials said Eisenhower was well enough Sunday morning to shave himself and eat a light breakfast. They declined to go into details about what caused the general's latest attack, but said the ailment was minor.

Eisenhower was taken to Walter Reed by helicopter Saturday after he was stricken on his Gettysburg, Pa., farm the previous evening.

Move is made to draft Reagan

FRANKLIN UPI — A Republican "grass roots" movement to draft California Governor Ronald Reagan for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination was launched here Saturday with the filing of papers forming an action committee.

The papers, filed with the Johnson County clerk, listed William H. Sparrenberger, Indianapolis, as chairman. He is a former assistant United States attorney.

Sparrenberger said the "grass roots" movement was not taken up with state Republican leaders before hand. He said the committee members felt Reagan was "the most likely to be elected" and it was the job of official GOP committee leaders to "elect whomever the people select."

Indiana Republican chairman Charles O. Hendricks said the ultimate decision for whom the Indiana delegates to the national convention vote will be made by a state committee next year.

Hendricks said he was concerned that the committee's incorporation might hurt chances of bringing Reagan to Indiana to speak at a fund raising dinner this fall for municipal elections. He said Reagan has been attempting to avoid such "grass roots" movements.

Other officers of the "Indiana Draft Reagan Committee" included Mrs. William T. Sharp, wife of an Indianapolis municipal court judge, vice chairman; John W. Bailey, Greenwood, treasurer; John Ryan, Indianapolis, secretary; and Walter E. Kennedy, Martinsville, finance chairman.

Ryan is former president of the Americans for Conservative Action.

Sparrenberger said the papers were filed in Johnson County because it is the residence of treasurer Bailey.

Several young Arabs were arrested Sunday night and three more today while distributing pamphlets calling for the strike against the "present situation" in the Old City, reports reaching Amman said.

Jerusalem Arabs staging protest

By United Press International

All Arab shops, restaurants and public establishments in old Jerusalem closed today in protest against Israeli occupation of the one-time Jordanian sector. It was the first major defiance of Israeli rule there.

Reports reaching Amman, the capital of Jordan, said Israeli police made continuous tours of the city and its suburbs and manned all entrances to the city. There were no reports of disturbances despite the tense situation.

SHREWSBURY, England UPI — A scorer named Bill Jones had a hard time keeping the scoring straight during a match Sunday. The Shrewsbury Cricket Club fielded a team with 11 members named Jones.

Moon pictures reported good

PASADENA, Calif. UPI — Lunar Orbiter 5 was primed today to return pictures of the hidden side of the moon that will allow scientists to complete their lunar mapping.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists said the initial photograph would be visible on television screens at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here this morning.

Previous Lunar Orbiters have obtained high quality pictures of about 60 per cent of the moon's far side.

A NASA spokesman said it would be several days before the 860-pound, twin-lens vehicle would begin returning pictures of potential astronaut landing sites on the visible side of the moon.

The vehicle began its picture-taking mission early Sunday. The subsequent photos of the visible side of the lunar surface will largely determine where America's first Apollo spacecraft will land.

Central time bobs up again

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Indiana Senator Birch Bayh's office today announced that the Department of Transportation will accept, until Oct. 20, communications on whether or not to move all of Indiana into the Central Time Zone.

Communications should be sent to the Docket Clerk; Office of the General Counsel; Department of Transportation, Washington, D. C., 20590.

The communications should specify that they refer to docket number 6, notice 2.

The proceedings will not concern adherence to or exemption from advanced (daylight) savings time during the summer months.

The Department of Transportation is acting upon the request of State officials who have asked that the entire state be placed in the Central Time Zone.

Currently 44 counties are in the official Eastern Standard Time Zone and 33 in the Central Time Zone.

Wichita, Kansas fairly quiet

WICHITA, Kan. UPI — A rifle shot apparently fired by a sniper wounded a pedestrian and molotov cocktails were thrown or fires set at four locations in racially troubled Wichita early today, but officials called the situation "generally quiet."

A light summer rain fell Sunday night and early today, cooling tensions built in three consecutive nights of disturbances.

A single bullet, fired from a .22 calibre rifle, zinged over the top of two police cars passing in opposite directions in the North-east District and struck Billy J. Williams, 42, a white man who was walking home from work. He was struck in the leg and police said he was not seriously wounded.

Damage from the fire bombings was slight.

The only arrests reported were for violation of a 10 p. m. to 4 a. m. curfew which remained in effect.
